

Our training business offers classroom training in application software, with multiple location options. As we are well established, we have used several different companies to advise and implement our AV requirements. And as we are also experienced, we researched DIB Australia before we made initial contact.

Every point we raised was explained patiently, and we were offered suggestions and advice to things that we had not thought of, by DIB Australia. DIB Australia used their industry experience to make our purchase and implementation experience hassle-free.

We now have interactive white boards and short throw data projectors in our training rooms. Our Docklands training venue has two! One at the front and one to the right. The feedback we have had in this room, in terms of presenter display, is fantastic.

We would not hesitate to recommend the team at DIB Australia. They are first class professionals, who really understand their product, industry and market.

Kind Regards, Sue
